

Cases Disposed Of in Court

Several Criminal Cases Ended With Out Trial—Motions Under Consideration—Court to Reconsider Monday for Civil Cases.

County court convened Monday afternoon and disposed of several cases although no actual trials were taken up and it is probable that there will be no further criminal cases moved for trial at the January term, which has been extended over into this month. The Leysa manslaughter case, which had been set down for Monday afternoon for trial, was moved over the term when it was learned that Peter Wolf, an important witness, could not be located.

Jack Henkin of Wawarsing changed his plea of not guilty to guilty of unlawful entry and on request of the complaining witness, Shapiro, the court suspended imposition of sentence and directed Henkin to report to Probation Officer for instruction as to future probation. F. W. Brooks appeared for defendant.

The Pasquale case, an automobile action, was also not over to the April term on request of complaining witness who stated there was a chance for settlement which would be satisfactory. Mr. Brooks also appeared for defendant.

Bail in the case of Edith Lee, charged with running a disorderly house at Eddyville, was forfeited when defendant failed to appear. Thomas F. Coughlin, who appeared for her, had asked for time to locate her and on Monday stated he had been unable to find out where she was and stated to the court that he apparently would be unable to get her here.

Frank W. Brooks moved for the dismissal of an indictment against Samuel Basch, a case five years old, also for the dismissal of indictments against Joseph Ruggiero and Angelo Qualliere. The Ruggiero indictment he stated had been hanging fire for some time due to the inability of The People to secure a witness from New Jersey. The charge is one of abduction and he informed the court in his motion for dismissal that the complaining witness had since been married.

Ruggiero has been requesting trial of the indictment and it has been an expensive matter to him to keep his bail bond in effect.

The Qualliere case, also an old one, and which was not on the January calendar, he asked be dismissed. On all three motions Judge Fowler reserved decision and permitted the district attorney to file memoranda.

Although no cases have been actually tried at this term 16 cases have been disposed of and more would have been disposed of but for illness of witnesses. Mr. Murray stated that in several of the cases The People had been confronted with inability to get witnesses due to illness. Judge Fowler stated that this had been true of both prosecution and defendants. He also said that in the event The People was able to secure witnesses in one or two cases at a later date he would take up these trials and dispose of as many cases as possible. Due to the fact that it was anticipated there would be criminal trial work during the present week no civil cases were ready and court recessed over until next Monday at 2 o'clock when the trial of several civil cases will be taken up. Anticipating criminal trial work this week, none of the lawyers in the civil cases had prepared for trial this week.

No. 11 on the civil calendar, George M. Hornbeck and Flora Ackery against Ida Hesseloff and another, an appeal from Justice's court, will be taken up next Monday at 2 o'clock and argued before the court without a jury as the question involved is one of law. LeRoy Lounsbury appears for plaintiffs and Manuel Dittenheimer for defendants.

Other civil cases on the calendar are Numbers 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 10 and 12.

Ulster Garage Property Sold

The transfer of ownership of what is known as the Ulster Garage property, 269 Fair street, which has been pending for some time and was scheduled to be consummated on February 1, has been closed, the title being passed and the deed filed today in the office of the Ulster county clerk. By the deed Elmer E. Molyneux and wife transfer their title and interest to Schuyler C. Schultz and Samuel Weisberg. The property, which is a two story brick structure used as a garage with a store adjoining used as a salesroom for heaters of the American Radiator Company, before being turned into a garage was owned by Henry Kelder, who conducted a high class stable there for years, and resided in what had been the residence of Charles A. Brays, a well known banker from whom Mr. Kelder purchased it with a large lot on which the garage now stands. On the residence lot the Weisberg building was erected. At the rear is a good sized lot which now becomes part of the Schultz and Weisberg purchase. There are the usual rumors that the garage property was bought as an investment and will be later turned over to out of town people to be converted into a large commercial enterprise. Mr. Molyneux purchased the property from the Kelder estate a few years ago.

Prospects for New Armory Here Appear Brighter

Kingston Listed Among Cities Where Survey Will be Made if Appropriation is Approved by Finance Committee—Other Budgetary Items of Local Interest.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 5.—(Special)—Close study of the voluminous appropriation bills comprising the executive budget would indicate today that the chances for a new armory in Kingston are better than was believed a week ago when a bare outline of the budget was presented for quick digest.

While no lump sum appropriation for a new state structure to house the Kingston National Guard units is made, buried deep in the items for the Department of Public Works is a sum of $80,000 for the preparation of plans by the state architect for new state armories at New Rochelle, Newburgh, Syracuse and Kingston. This would indicate that while the bill of Senator Wicks of last year asking for $200,000 for a new armory went to death in committee, the necessity for such a structure apparently was impressed upon those who advised the governor in the writing of the budget.

Should the $80,000 item be approved by the finance committee of the legislature to which the executive budget was referred, it means the chances of passage of Senator Wicks bill, soon to be re-introduced, will be greatly enhanced. Money is always appropriated for a survey or for plans preliminary to construction of any project given statutory approval.

Depending, of course, on favorable action by the finance committee of the architectural plans item, and enactment of the new armory bill by the legislature, it can be expected that a start may be made on an up-to-date state structure in Kingston in 1930.

Other budgetary items of interest to Kingston, revealed by a thorough search of the appropriation bills, are $1,650 for maintenance and operation of the Senate House for the next fiscal year; $1,500 for the law library of the third Supreme court district at Kingston; and $364,515 for maintenance of the Institute for Deaf-Blind Children at Nanuet. Of the latter sum, not more than $227,018 shall be expended for personal services.

FATHER AND SON ON JURY TO TRY LEONARD

Towkda, Pa., Feb. 5 (AP).—For the first time in the history of Bradford county a father and son sat on the same jury, a jury which today lacked four members to try Arthur Leonard, 18-year-old farm hand, charged with the murder of Mrs. Jaunita Jones, Herkierville widow. Sheriff's officers were prepared to bring a special venire of 25 additional talesemen to complete the jury. George Vannoy and his son, Alfred, both farmers of Troy township, were among the eight already in the box.

The state will attempt to prove that Leonard had been befriended by Mrs. Jones, had been given a position on her farm, and had killed her with a bed slat in her bedroom in order to rob her. Mrs. Jones was slain December 4.

ESTRANGED WIFE READY TO AID DEPUTY SHERIFF

Williamatic, Conn., Feb. 5 (AP).—The estranged wife of Deputy Sheriff Tremor Rice, charged with the murder of County Detective William E. Jackson, stood ready to aid in his defense today.

Expressing complete faith in his innocence, Mrs. Rice said she would be willing to drop a pending divorce suit and do anything she could to aid him, if he should ask her.

Bandits Get Payroll

New York, Feb. 5 (AP).—A few minutes after an armored truck had delivered a $4,500 payroll to a West 34th street packing firm, five holdups entered, covered the office floor, and escaped with the money. The men threatened the clerks with machine gun fire if there was any outcry or pursuit.

Standard Oil Cuts Big Melon

General Counsel Says Dividend Declaration Was Not For the Purpose of Changing Votes in Colonel Stewart's Fight.

Chicago, Feb. 5 (AP).—Whether Colonel Robert W. Stewart or John D. Rockefeller, Jr., was control of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana at the annual meeting March 7, the company's stockholders already have been made beneficiaries of the largest stock and cash dividend in the company's melon-cutting history.

A 50 per cent stock dividend, an extra cash dividend of 50 cents a share and the regular dividend of 32 1/2 cents a share were declared at a brief meeting yesterday of the board of directors, of which Colonel Stewart is chairman. Estimates of the cash value of the stock dividend ranged from $300,000,000 to $400,000,000. Par value of the Standard Oil of Indiana stock is $25, but shares closed at $36 on the market yesterday, which would make the value of the stock dividend $444,000,000.

The melon was placed before the stockholders without comment. The only official statement was issued by L. L. Stephens, general counsel, who said the dividend declaration was not for the purpose of changing votes in Col. Stewart's fight to win re-election as board member and chairman at the stockholders' meeting.

There are now on the company's books 9,250,000 shares of stock. And the actual value of the company has been placed by Col. Stewart at $200,000,000. Stock sold up to $103 a share recently.

Col. Stewart himself would make no comment on the board's action yesterday. Mr. Stephens, however, pointed out that yesterday was the date of the regular meeting of the board for declaration of dividends.

"Our surplus is upwards of $225,000,000," he said. "The prospect for the future were such that the directors thought a stock dividend should be declared, and the prospects for future earnings justify their action."

The cash dividend amounted to $15,619,375, to be distributed among the approximately 58,000 stockholders. The 50 per cent stock dividend is to be paid to stockholders of record February 16. The regular cash dividend of 32 1/2 cents a share, plus the 50 per cent stock dividend, is also payable to all stockholders, including that issued pursuant to said stock dividend.

A review of melon cutting by the Standard Oil of Indiana shows that one share of stock held prior to 1912 has grown in value to $20,000, including yesterday's stock dividend and exclusive of all cash dividends.

In 1912 a 2,900 per cent stock dividend was declared, the original share becoming 30 shares. In 1920 there was a 150 per cent stock dividend, increasing the 30 shares to 75 shares. Two years later a 100 per cent stock dividend transformed the 75 shares into 150 shares. Yesterday's action increased the number to 225 shares, the value of which, at yesterday's close of $96, would be $20,000.

Curb Market Thrown in Tumult

New York, Feb. 5 (AP).—The New York Curb Market was thrown into such a tumult by a rush to buy the common stock of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana today that the first transaction was not straightened out until after 1 o'clock, when a sale of 70,000 shares at $100.25 a share, an overnight gain of $4.25, was finally arranged.

FIRST "FARM RELIEF" BILL FAVORABLY REPORTED

Albany, Feb. 5 (AP).—The first of the Republican bills designed to furnish the much-heralded "farm relief" was reported favorably today in both senate and assembly. It is the Wales-Lord measure designed to relieve towns of the present contribution of $50 a mile for the maintenance of the improved state highway system.

The bill is identical with a measure which was passed by the Republican legislature last year and was vetoed by Governor Smith. Assemblyman Eberly Hutchinson, chairman of the ways and means committee which handled the bill on the assembly side, said he believed the measure would go through immediately, to be followed in short order by other relief measures. The bill was reported by the internal affairs committee in the senate.

Brown Smothered to Death

Brownsville, Pa., Feb. 5 (AP).—Herbert Hoover Lightfoot, three months old, and named after the president-elect, was smothered to death today when bed-clothing covered the infant's head.

Sears, Roebuck To Open Store in Uptown Section

During the past year there have been numerous rumors to the effect that Sears, Roebuck & Company had purchased various properties in the city with the view of establishing a retail store here. At times it has been reported the Eagle Hotel, the Kuhlmann Garage, the Ulster Garage, the E. S. Craft grocery building and various other properties had been sold to the firm. These rumors were traced down and found to be absolutely without foundation.

Now it has been definitely learned that Sears, Roebuck & Company has negotiated for a piece of property in the up-town business section and has made satisfactory arrangements. No information is forthcoming from either the purchaser or the former owner as to when activities will commence but it is presumed that the time is not far distant when actual building operations will be taken up. The property is one of the few large parcels remaining in the up-town business section which has been undeveloped and which is ample for a large structure to be erected thereon. The fact that this satisfactory site has been secured by the mail order firm has been definitely established. In the past few years Sears, Roebuck & Company, formerly a strictly mail order house, has been experimenting with small town stores and a number are scattered over the country.

ACCORD MAN IN JAIL FOR CRUELTY TO ANIMALS

A case of cruelty to animals has recently come to the attention of the local authorities. The facts surrounding the case are such that neighbors were compelled to call the attention of the authorities to the matter and as a result an arrest was made and the person responsible for the care of the live stock is now in jail.

John Gallagher of Accord, who resides on the former Burns farm on the Mettuchabons road, is now in jail serving time for the act. He was placed under arrest by Deputy Sheriff Block of Accord, who investigated the case.

Gallagher was in charge of the live stock on the farm, but frequently absented himself from the premises for two or three days at a time, leaving the stock without food or drink. The starving condition of the stock was called to the attention of the authorities and Mr. Block made an investigation. On his first trip he was unable to locate Gallagher but he made arrangements to have the cattle cared for and subsequently went to the place where he found Gallagher, who had been drinking.

Gallagher was arrested and taken before Justice of the Peace Fred Simpson, who committed him to jail 30 days and imposed a $10 fine. As an alternative for the fine he committed Gallagher to jail for one day for each dollar of the fine not paid. Neighbors are caring for the stock now on the farm. One horse was found dead from starvation in the field.

IMPEACHMENT PROCEEDINGS STARTED AGAINST BUCKLEY

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 5 (AP).—Impeachment proceedings have been started in the Ohio legislature against Bert B. Buckley, state treasurer, who was convicted in Federal Court Saturday of attempted bribery and conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws.

Governor Myers V. Cooper demanded the legislative action last night after Buckley had refused to resign. Governor Cooper prepared a message which was read at the opening of last night's session of the House of Representatives, demanding that charges be preferred.

The House unanimously adopted a resolution calling for committee investigation of Buckley's conviction. Speaker O. C. Gray announced appointment of a committee as the first step in the impeachment proceedings. Charges must be voted in the House after which a trial is conducted with the State Senate sitting as a court.

Buckley, who is the first state official to face impeachment in Ohio, is free on $10,000 bail pending argument Monday on his appeal from the Federal Court conviction. He faces a maximum sentence in the Federal penitentiary of 28 years and a fine of $27,000.

Testimony at the trial was that Buckley had offered $200 monthly to John F. Eckhart, acting assistant prohibition administrator, for information of Federal activity against Cincinnati breweries, and that he had relayed supposed tips to operators of the Jackson Brewing Company of Cincinnati.

GENERAL BOOTH WILL CARRY FIGHTS TO COURTS

London, Feb. 5 (AP).—Indications were seen today that General Bramwell Booth, commander in chief of the Salvation Army, would carry his quarrel with the Army's High Council to the courts again if the council renews its efforts to depose him.

A statement by his daughter, Catherine Booth, that "the legal side of this situation has not ended" was so interpreted by observers of the Army's controversy. Miss Booth was said to have been warned by her solicitors not to discuss Army affairs inasmuch as further litigation might develop.

Slayer of Bill Brennan in Jail

Joseph Pioli Captured After Having Been a Fugitive from Sing Sing Prison for Two Years—Tells of Escape.

Elizabeth, N. J., Feb. 5 (AP).—The slayer of Bill Brennan, heavyweight pugilist, was in jail today after having been a fugitive from Sing Sing prison for two years. Joseph Pioli, who disappeared mysteriously from prison on the night of March 2, 1922, was arrested here last night as a suspicious character. Detectives took him into custody after watching his movements for more than a week. Their suspicions had been aroused by the suspect's apparent prosperity, with no visible means of support.

When approached in a cafe he said he was James Lavette of 822 Broadway, Newark. Detectives said they found a pistol in his pocket. An automobile he had been driving was registered in Union County under a fictitious name. Police said his identity as the escaped convict was established through police records.

The prisoner gave a detailed account of the manner in which he escaped from Sing Sing. He said that under cover of a heavy fog he slipped out of his cell carrying his mattress with him. Making his way to the top of the wall with the mattress, he said he held it before him and leaped into the Hudson River.

Swimming about three city blocks, he climbed ashore and was away before the siren on the prison sounded, warning a prisoner had escaped.

Pioli was indicted with four others for murder in connection with the shooting to death of Brennan in the former boxer's cabaret in New York city in July, 1924. He pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the first degree in October of the same year and was sentenced to Sing Sing for 20 years.

On the night of February 2, 1921, Pioli and another convict, George Walmale, were reported missing from the prison. For several days prison authorities refused to admit they had escaped, maintaining that the prisoners were hiding within the walls of Sing Sing.

After quitting the fight game Brennan became proprietor of a cabaret known as Tia Juana—in upper New York city. On the night of July 15, 1924, five men entered his cabaret and opened fire on him. As Brennan fell James Cullen, a state trooper, went to his assistance and was shot, dying later from the wound. Two men said to be members of the gang, James Hughes and Frank Rossi, were arrested immediately after the shooting. Pioli was taken later.

The killing of Brennan was believed to have been the outcome of a quarrel between the former fighter and Pioli, who had been ejected from the cafe by Brennan for using abusive language to a woman.

Pioli was under indictment for the slaying of his brother Santos when arrested for the Brennan killing.

Fail to Agree On Dry Increase

Majority of Spokesmen For The House Refuse To Consider $24,000,000 Increase For Enforcement of Dry Law.

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP).—The House and Senate conferees on the deficiency appropriation bill failed to agree today on the Senate amendment to provide $24,000,000 for dry law enforcement.

The $24,000,000 item was placed in the bill against the wishes of Secretary Mellon, who argued that a plan for expending it should first be formulated. A move to have the House vote directly upon it failed several days ago.

After today's conference the Senate conferees prepared to return the item to the Senate for reconsideration.

The majority of the spokesmen for the House refused to consider the increase in funds for enforcement of the dry law. The Senate conferees again demanded that the House be given an opportunity to vote directly on the measure.

Chairman Warren, of the Senate appropriations committee, indicated he might go before the Senate again to ask for new instructions but Senate leaders doubted whether any material change could be made in the overwhelming vote by which the increase was first ordered.

The bill in dispute also carries $750,000 for tax refunds and $250,000 for a presidential inquiry into prohibition.

FOUCH'S CONDITION DESCRIBED AS STATIONARY

Paris, Feb. 5 (AP).—Marshal Ferdinand Foch was able to get some sleep last night after an attack of indigestion had disturbed his earlier hours, his physicians said this morning. The attack left the marshal tired and with a higher temperature. His general condition was described as stationary.

Lindbergh Heads Thousands Ill of For Managua on His Second Lap

Reaches Tela, Where His Course Lay Straight Across Honduras and Nicaragua Mountains—Expects To Arrive in Panama Tomorrow.

Boston, Feb. 5 (AP).—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, who took off from Bolize, British Honduras, today on the second lap of his aerial flight to Panama, arrived at Tela at 10:15 a. m., eastern standard time, a radio message received here by the Tropical Radio and Telegraph Company reported.

From Tela his course lay straight across Honduras and Nicaraguan mountains about 274 miles to Managua, where he will make his second overnight stop enroute to Cristobal, Panama.

Tomorrow his schedule calls for an early take-off at Managua and a fueling stop at Punta Arenas, Costa Rica. He expects to arrive at Cristobal tomorrow afternoon, remaining in Panama until ready to retrace his route next week.

Aboard the amphibian plane he is piloting is mail for Central American points from the United States—the first to be carried over a commercial airmail route to the isthmian countries. The flight itself is the inaugural venture in the new fortnightly service, which the Pan-American Airways, Inc., plans eventually to run on a tri-weekly basis.

Lindbergh is a newcomer to Tela, although he has visited Honduras previously, having stopped at Tegucigalpa a year ago on his first Central American flight. To Managua he is making his second visit in a little more than a year. Much of the elaborateness of his reception a year ago was dispensed with today by marine officers at his own request to be considered solely as a commercial pilot on this trip.

A slight mishap marred the arrival of his amphibian here yesterday but it was inconsequential and did not disable his plane. He alighted gracefully on the waters of the bay here, but in climbing the especially made ramp from the water to a platform on the beach he over-ran the edge of the platform and his plane bogged in the mud. It was necessary to dig the mud from around the wheels, place boards beneath them and pull the machine out with a tractor.

ONE KILLED, FOUR HURT IN AUTOMOBILE MISHAP

Cape May, N. J., Feb. 5 (AP).—Edward Jones, 23, of Philadelphia, was killed and four others including Lieutenant Robert H. Hewitt, aviator in charge of the Philadelphia airport, were injured when their automobile upset early today at Ben-nett, three miles from here. The others were Edward Ward, 25, Philadelphia; William Monaghan, 26, Wildwood, N. J., driver of the automobile, and Montgomery Smith, also of Wildwood.

The noise of the crash awoke the Rev. L. D. Brewie, living nearby, who found the men lying in a field where they had been thrown. It is believed that a wheel of the automobile caught in the railroad tracks which pass through the town of Ben-nett.

IMMIGRATION OFFICER ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

Albany, Feb. 5 (AP).—Joseph Soblosky, United States immigration officer, was on trial today in United States District court on a charge of murder, second degree, in connection with the fatal shooting of Richard Polkey, alleged liquor runner, on September 16, 1923.

The morning session, with Federal Judge Frank Cooper of Albany presiding, was occupied with selection of a jury. Soblosky was represented by Andrew B. Cooney of Malone. Selection of the jury was conducted by the defense by Daniel H. Prior, Albany attorney.

TWO BURGLARIES REPORTED TO POLICE DEPARTMENT

Two burglaries, one on Hudson street and the other on German street, were reported to the police department on Monday. Mrs. Jesse DeWitt of 61 Hudson street had her storm shed entered and a quantity of canned goods and nearly a whole ham were stolen. The thief took the clothing in her and used it to carry away his plunder in. At the home of Mrs. Lona Cannon at 81 German street entrance was obtained through a rear window and a mask was put on at $200 and some money was stolen. The thief left the house by the front door, taking the key with him.

Carnes Sentenced

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 5 (AP).—Clinton S. Carnes, former treasurer of the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board, whose disappearance late last summer led to the discovery of an alleged shortage of nearly a million dollars in his accounts, pleaded guilty in Superior court here today to embezzlement and was sentenced to from five to seven years' imprisonment. He was arrested in Canada.

Thousands Ill of Flu in Europe

Few Localities Have Been Spared by the Epidemic—Notable Figures in Public Life of France Are Among Those Afflicted.

London, Feb. 5 (AP).—Thousands of persons were ill in Europe today of influenza. Few localities had been spared by the epidemic. In France some of the most notable figures of public life were among those afflicted.

In Paris the victims included President Doumergue, Premier Raymond Poincare and his ministers, Aristide Briand and Georges Leygues. Their cases were mild, but there was a more serious aspect to that of Marshal Foch, where influenza had complicated a prior heart and kidney ailment.

Others on the sick list in Paris were Marshal Henri Poincaré, and Sir Williams G. Tyrrell, British ambassador. S. Parker Gilbert, agent general of reparations, was better after an attack of the disease. In England Dame Nellie Melba, famous prima donna, was recovering from the malady.

Hospitals in Paris were taxed to capacity with patients; Berlin's public works and department stores reported heavy sick lists. This was the case too in London. In Prague, Czechoslovakia, the epidemic was on the wane after striking low more than one person in every five. Although there have been some deaths, most centers reported that mortality had been comparatively low.

The epidemic was accompanied today by continuation of the bitterly cold weather that has gripped Europe and Asia from the Yellow Sea to the British Isles.

Some parts of central and southern Europe particularly were suffering. Several deaths were reported from the Balkans, Constantinople and South Russia. At Belgrade, Yugoslavia, the temperature reached 25 degrees below zero, and a passenger train which left the city Sunday for Zgazar was buried under twenty feet of snow. Another avalanche buried a rescue train. Two other trains were unreported. The Danube and Sava rivers were frozen over so solidly that horses and carts were crossing in safety.

At Prague, Czechoslovakia, the lowest temperature in 157 years was recorded. The whole country was covered with a blanket of snow and relief expeditions were organized for a number of villages. Famished wolves invaded other isolated towns. In Constantinople the heavy snow caused much suffering. Italy saw considerable snow and Rome recorded the lowest temperature since 1895, 21 degrees. France had clear sunny weather, although it was bitterly cold; even the Riviera held no charm for its winter visitors. Denmark was icebound, and temperatures below freezing prevailed in England and the British Isles.

Asia was not spared. Northern Chinese ports reported unusual cold with ice hindering shipping at Tientsin and Chinkwangtao. There were a number of deaths at Shanghai. Baluchistan and northern India experienced very low temperatures although few details were available. Even Bombay reported a reading of 32 degrees Fahrenheit, the lowest in nearly a century. Cotton-cultivators suffered locally from what to them is bitter cold.

Anomalous weather in northern Siberia reported temperature of forty-degrees Fahrenheit, while in Spitzbergen the reading was three degrees higher than in London, where it was 27.

There was some speculation as to the effect of the cold weather on the influenza epidemic. Some localities believed the bitter cold helpful; others that it was increasing the number of cases.

Saves Painting Of Her Mother

New York, Feb. 5 (AP).—A painting of her mother which 15-year-old Audrey Marx saved because she knew it was her father's favorite was virtually all that remained today of the Marx mansion on the Hudson.

The 25-room frame and brick dwelling of Otto Marx, financier, filled with valuable paintings, tapestries and books, was destroyed by fire last night with a loss estimated at $1,500,000.

The portrait of Mrs. Marx as a child was the work of her father, Henry Mosler, noted American artist, who died in 1920. He probably is best known for his painting of Peter Ross and his friends making the first American flag.

Among the paintings destroyed were 50 of Mosler's works, a Rembrandt, and others by Nicholas Mays and Forster.

Mr. and Mrs. Marx and their two sons were at a theatre when the fire broke out. They arrived on the scene when the roof was falling in. Mrs. Marx told the police she had jewelry worth $125,000 in a safe in the house and a guard was thrown about the place to await a cooling of the ruins so a search for the safe can be made.

The home is located on the banks of the Hudson river in the Neerlands section of the Bronx and firemen were handicapped by its isolated location and low water pressure. The fire was discovered by Miss Marx, who was alone in the house with the servants.

Events Around The Empire State

LYONS, N.Y.—Foster homes, with a travelling supervisor to investigate conditions, were urged in the annual report of W. Ralph Strain, clerk of Wayne County Children's Court. Such a system, he declared, would obviate the necessity of an institution for homeless orphans and would provide the children with more ideal living conditions.

Waterloo, N.Y.—A local singer claims the distinction of actually having a seven-pound pie baked while engaged in tip-up fishing. The antics of the live bait on the hook apparently formed a loose fish, which the luckless picker-up thrust his head at the moment the line was hauled up.

Perry, N.Y.—Local sheep growers tried mixing molasses with the feed for their lambs. The animals thrived on it and grew so fat they lost all inclination to run about.

Hamilton, N.Y.—Earl C. Abell, Colgate head football coach, recently was elected a trustee of the Association of College Football Coaches.

Syracuse, N.Y., Feb. 5 (P.)—Professor Frank N. Bryant, head of the department of Business Mathematics at Syracuse University, has been appointed Director of Admissions and Secretary of the Board of Admissions, succeeding Dr. Eugene F. Bradford.

Newly developed physiological tests of fitness for entrance will be put into effect by Professor Bryant as rapidly as they are accepted by the governing body. The widening territory of the university, which now draws its students from every part of the country and even from many foreign lands, marks it necessary for the director of admissions to familiarize himself with high school standards and new developments in secondary school work in all parts of the country.

Mr. Bryant was graduated from Ohio Northern University in 1909. After some time spent in post-graduate work and in teaching he was engaged in engineering work in the reclamation service of the United States government. For eight years he lectured in mathematics and civil engineering at Washington State College. He came to Syracuse University nine years ago.

At Syracuse he has been chairman of the University absence committee, secretary of the cabinet of the Extension and Summer Session Division, and of the committee on scholarship. He also has served on various student work and athletics committees, and is a member of several honorary business and mathematics societies, Phi Kappa Phi and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Adding long columns of figures need no longer worry storekeepers and business men. For a highly practical adding machine, weighing only 4 oz., which fits the vest pocket, has been invented by C. M. Cleary, Suite 1361, 173 W. Madison St., Chicago, Ill. This amazing adding machine sells for $2.95, yet does the work of a $300 machine. It is simple to operate, counts to a billion, clears instantly, and is absolutely accurate. The inventor wants it introduced everywhere and is making a special Free Offer to agents. Write him today if you want to make big money.

be completed in all communities this week.

On Friday afternoon, in the auditorium of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation, 5 Field Court, Kingston, Miss Lucile Brewer, specialist in food preparation from the State College of Home Economics will give the second lesson in the course. In this lesson Miss Brewer will use the candied fruits and vegetables made in the first lesson, will add a few more dainties, and will demonstrate the packing of attractive boxes and baskets. Miss Brewer's chief aim is to demonstrate the fact that much waste fruit and vegetables can be made into attractive confections and sold at a good price on the market.

Aside from the commercial value of the project, the lessons given teach the women of Ulster county the making of sweets that are much more wholesome than sweets made entirely of sugar. They are quite as attractive and the flavors of the fruits and vegetables make the confections more delicious in flavor than sugar sweets.

The meeting Friday afternoon begins at 2 o'clock. The auditorium at 5 Field Court seats 75, and all chairs are expected to be occupied. Standing room is sometimes scarce at the auditorium when Miss Brewer demonstrates.

Other meetings in the county this week are as follows: Monday, February 4th, High Falls—Bazaar of Reformed Church 2:30 p. m., Miss Evelyn Nance, Home Bureau Manager, demonstrator.

Tuesday, February 5—Shokan—Home of Mrs. Leonard Ruckert 1:30 p. m. Miss Elizabeth Plank, demonstrator for Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation.

Wednesday, February 6, West Hurley—Home of Mrs. John Saxe, 2 p. m. Miss Nance, demonstrator.

Thursday, February 7—Rondout Valley meeting at Accord M. E. Church Hall, 2 p. m. Miss Plank, demonstrator.

Chief officer Harry Manning says: "Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet."

"WHEN I climbed aboard the 'America' after those cold, strenuous hours getting the men off the freighter 'Florida,' there was nothing I wanted so much as a Lucky—'By George,' it tasted wonderful! A Lucky is always refreshing. My tense nerves relaxed, my aching throat was soothed and the whole thrilling adventure just seemed a part of the day's work. As time goes by, and I look back to that memorable night, I'll always remember the wonderful taste of that welcome Lucky. As I went around to visit the men we'd rescued, I found many of them enjoying Luckys, too. We really couldn't wait to get back to our ship and 'Luckys.' As an actual fact in returning to the 'America' I noticed one of our men* rowing with one hand and lighting a Lucky with the other. There's no flavor to equal toasted tobaccos, and I always prefer Lucky Strikes. There's wisdom in the saying: 'Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet.' It helps a man to keep physically fit and we who follow the sea must always be prepared for any emergency."

Note. Authorities attribute the enormous increase in cigarette smoking to the improvement in the process of cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that during the year 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other cigarette brands combined. This surely confirms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.

Grant Re-Hearing On B'way Crossing Elimination Plan

Request of City of Kingston and County of Ulster for a Re-hearing on Crossing Elimination Granted by Public Service Commission—Date Not Fixed.

The city authorities and County Attorney Robert G. Groves, representing the county of Ulster, have been notified by the state public service commission that their request for a re-hearing on the Broadway crossing of the West Shore railroad has been granted and that the state for the hearing would be fixed later.

Last year the public service commission after holding hearings here on the proposed elimination handed down an order directing that the elimination be made by the depressing of the roadway in conformity with plans submitted to the commission at the public hearings by the New York Central Railroad.

At the time the public service commission handed down its order the city and county authorities immediately applied for a re-hearing so that a study could be made of a plan whereby the railroad tracks and not the street would be depressed.

It was the contention of the city and county at the public hearings held here that no plan should be adopted until both the depressing of the tracks or the depressing of the street should be considered and the cost of each plan ascertained.

The city authorities favor the depressing of the railroad tracks in preference to the depressing of the street. The Central Business Association also opposes the depressing of the street.

WIFE OF AMERICAN CONSUL AMONG THOSE STRANDED

Constantinople, Feb. 5 (AP).—Mrs. Charles E. Allen, wife of the American consul at Constantinople, is among hundreds of passengers who have been stranded in various European trains which have been snowed out in the Thracean wilds for the past five days.

The trains are blocked about 100 miles from Constantinople. Telegraph lines have been broken down and it is not known how these passengers are faring. It is feared that they may be threatened with starvation as the huge drifts may prevent communication with the nearest villages.

The raging blizzard of the past two days continues to sweep over Constantinople. One boat arrived from the Black Sea after battling huge waves.

Madrid, Feb. 5 (AP).—Premier Primo de Rivera, in response to a request by The Associated Press for a statement on the situation in Spain, today denied that the recent revolutionary movement was of importance and declared that there had been no fighting whatever.

Not Positive He Will Veto Measure

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP).—Although President Coolidge does not approve of the Cruiser Construction Bill with the time restriction clause included, he does not wish to be understood as saying positively that he will veto the measure.

The President feels that had the time clause been eliminated the measure could have been passed by the Senate in a few hours, with the result that by now the work of making appropriations for building the ships would be well under way.

The time clause stipulated that the construction of the 15 cruisers and one aircraft carrier be started before July 1, 1931.

Albany, Feb. 5 (AP).—Two bandits held up two women in a beauty shop last night, stole jewelry and cash valued at $2,000, fired a shot at the owner of a car they had stolen, and made good their escape. Their victims were Miss Lucy E. Altopeda, proprietor of the beauty shop, and Mrs. Elizabeth M. Gardner, a customer.

NEGRO SETS FIRE TO MATTRESS IN CELL

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 5 (AP).—After a night of screaming and disorder in his cell, David Ware, Robbinsville negro, who is being tried for the slaying of a state trooper, set fire to the mattress of his bed shortly before 8 o'clock today.

Straw from the bed had been scattered about the cell floor before a match touched off the material. Ware huddled himself in one corner. The smoke attracted guards, who put out the fire.

The defense has contended that Ware is of low mentality, despite a report by Dr. Henry A. Cotton, a medical director of the state hospital, that the prisoner is not unbalanced.

Ware slept little throughout the night, according to Warden John D'Arcy. He shook the grated door of his cell and shouted.

When brought into the court room this morning, Ware created further confusion by shouting incoherently and waving his arms. Court attendants silenced him.

The state regarded the demonstration as staged in the hope of impressing the jury.

ST. JOHN'S MEN TO HAVE SUPPER

On Tuesday evening, February 12, Shrove Tuesday, the Men's Club of St. John's Church will have a pancake supper at the parish house on Albany avenue at 6:30 o'clock. The men of the parish are invited to the supper whether club men or not. There will be a nominal charge for the supper but much more than a nominal "feed" will be provided, including a fine social time.

Mayor Walker at Albany.

Albany, Feb. 5 (AP).—Mayor James J. Walker of New York came to the capital today to discuss with legislators the Metropolitan legislative program for the present session. His conferences today were a continuation of a discussion he had with Governor Roosevelt last night and which he expected to renew with him late this afternoon.

DECLARES HE PAID $1,500 TO OBTAIN APPOINTMENT

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP).—A. P. Russell, former postmaster at Magee, Miss., told a senate committee investigating patronage today that he had paid $1,500 to obtain appointment as United States marshal in Mississippi.

The money, he said, was given to Perry W. Howard, Republican national committeeman for Mississippi, who has been acquitted of one charge and faces another acquisition growing out of alleged payments for postmaster appointments.

After serving five months, Russell said, he resigned because he could not "agree" with Howard's lieutenant and could not name his deputies. James G. Buchanan, who succeeded him as marshal, Russell said, paid $2,000 to get the job.

That Wouldn't Do

Henry William was on the point of securing a new job—or, rather, his wife had secured it—and Henry William was in imminent danger of settling down to it.

His account of the past few months spent in drawing unemployment benefits had not impressed his prospective employer, but the latter decided to give him a chance.

"Very well, you can have the job," William was told. "and you'll be paid just what you're worth."

"What I'm worth, gu-nor?" he repeated. "That won't do at all! The wife told me to get a 'bird' wage!"

All the Difference

The clock had just struck twelve when Henpeck inserted his latchkey and let himself into his suburban villa. His wife was ready for him.

"Where have you been, Ed, the to know?" she snapped.

"I—er—er—" began Henpeck hesitatingly, when he was interrupted.

"Ten, go on. I suppose you'll tell me you've been to see a sick friend—holding his hand off the evening?"

"Oh, no, my dear," replied the erring husband sadly. "I'd been holding his hand, I would have made some money."—Pittsburgh Sun Telegraph.

OUR UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM.

The British Tory press having "minimized" the distress in England's coal mining region, the public comfortably remained more or less inattentive, but the Prince of Wales was not satisfied and, in order to focus his country's attention on the subject, he toured the mining region in person and entered the most wretched hovels, where he found as many as eight sleeping in a single room "without furniture," victims of absolute destitution. He also unearthed a wage scale for work in the played-out mines ranging from $1.65 to $1.80 a week! The "glorious mess," which made him "heart sick," included actual starvation and death in some cases. Thus he roused Great Britain to the stark necessities of an almost incredibly desperate situation.

The relatively mild unemployment situation in this country has also been "minimized." Senator Wagner having asserted during last year's election campaign that we had 4,000,000 unemployed, the Secretary of Labor, after a very hasty survey, whittled the figures down to 1,800,000, and then the prosperous public felt comfortably assured that there was nothing to be disturbed about. But now there are signs of an awakening.

"Hoover to ask reserve fund to aid jobless," a headline announces, the Washington dispatch below stating that in his first message to Congress he is expected to urge necessary legislation to lay the foundation for a three billion reserve credit to be available for relief of unemployment in times of industrial depression—in striking contrast with Mr. Coolidge's familiar jubilation over this country's vast and widespread prosperity.

The day before this news of Mr. Hoover's intention appeared a Philadelphia headline read, "Thousands face starvation or disrupted homes here in crisis of unemployment," and below, "Mayor to ask $50,000 to relieve jobless here." Previously, out of a budget of $90,000,000, Philadelphia gave just $5,000 for "immediate relief of urgent cases." Discussing the situation editorially, the Philadelphia Record says: "Hundreds of human beings in the City of Homes are in the grip of privation. Many are destitute and undernourished. Some are in the shadow of actual starvation." We have had no Prince of Wales to investigate personally with a view to focus this nation's eyes on our own unemployment problem, but little by little we seem to be awakening to its reality, and with this awakening there is a dawning of recognition that our vaunted prosperity is more one-sided, more limited to the fortunate classes, than it should be.

FRANKLIN'S PROPHECIES.
 A reprinted letter written by Benjamin Franklin shows that he anticipated the possibility of aviation, the production of modern labor-saving machinery, and even such prevention of disease as would greatly lengthen human life. His autobiography and the files of his Pennsylvania Gazette tend to leave the impression that he was a shrewd man of business not much concerned about the humanities in the modern sense, but as a scientist he plainly had the far-seeing vision of the most progressive modern minds. "It is impossible to imagine," he wrote to an English chemist, "the height to which may be carried, in a thousand years, the power of man over matter"—adding: "We may perhaps learn to deprive large masses of their gravity and give them absolute levity, for the sake of easy transport. Agriculture may diminish its labor and double its produce. All diseases may be sure means be prevented or cured, not excepting that of old age, and our lives lengthened at pleasure even beyond the antediluvian standard."

All this has already been accomplished except the prodigious prolonging of earthly life. In spite of his profitable acceptance of a custom of his times now outlawed, Franklin dreamed also of progress along higher lines; for to his prophetic eye added: "O that moral sciences were in a fair way of improvement, that men would cease to be wolves to one another, and that human beings would at length learn what they now improperly call humanity!"

Monkeys and open-minded prohibitionists ought to find much to reflect upon in "Reconstruction and Prohibition," a temperate discussion contributed by President Lowell of Harvard to the February Atlantic Monthly. He perceives a similar difficulty in the Eighteenth Amendment's effort to change the personal habits of millions of Americans to that in the effort of the Fourteenth and Fifteenth amendments to reconstruct the whole social and political fabric of the Southern States. The two earlier amendments, after violent and oppressive methods to enforce them with the aid of Federal troops, inevitably failed, becoming virtual dead letters, because the South at all hazards refused to submit; and President Lowell believes that the Eighteenth Amendment, without modification, must fail likewise because a widely unpopular law cannot be enforced. He admits that Federal prohibition has done some good in communities where it is welcomed, but concludes that it has done evil to a much greater extent.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

 WHEN BEST MEANS LIFE.

I visited a tuberculosis sanatorium some weeks ago and had a chat with an ex-champion amateur boxer who was a bed patient.

He informed me quite calmly that he would be in bed for two years anyway, would then be an up patient for some months, and finally would be a "cure" and able to get back home and take up some light form of employment.

In other words although fresh air and the best of nourishing food are big factors in curing tuberculosis, rest, absolute rest, is the most important.

Because when the condition is active, although fresh air is beneficial and food gives strength, the absolute rest of the body in the lying down position gives the affected lung a chance to get ahead of the conditions, whereas where exercise is taken the lung cannot heal. This is the reason that a gas is sometimes injected to make pressure against an affected lung, so that it cannot expand, and thus it must rest and gets a real chance to heal.

This method is used on the very serious cases and often saves many months of time in curing the condition.

Dr. Rist of Paris compares 750 cases treated by this gas pressure method (artificial pneumothorax, with 163 cases which were in the same condition but refused treatment or had adhesions which prevented the use of the gas pressure method.

There were 30 per cent of deaths among these treated cases as compared with 54 per cent among those untreated.

There were 52 per cent of the treated cases leading normal lives, as against none among those who refused the treatment.

The lesson of course is that in the lung conditions absolute rest until all the bad symptoms have subsided is the biggest part of the treatment. After this, fresh air is next in importance and Dr. C. H. Vrooman, of Vancouver, reminds us that results show that cures can be obtained just as readily at sea level in England, as in the mountains of Switzerland; that the result in Canada are quite as good as in California.

And the other essential—good food—can be obtained as readily one place as in another.

All of which means that if the tuberculosis patient is willing, as was my friend the boxer, to settle his mind to the fact that he had a long slow job ahead of him, that a cure is almost a certainty.

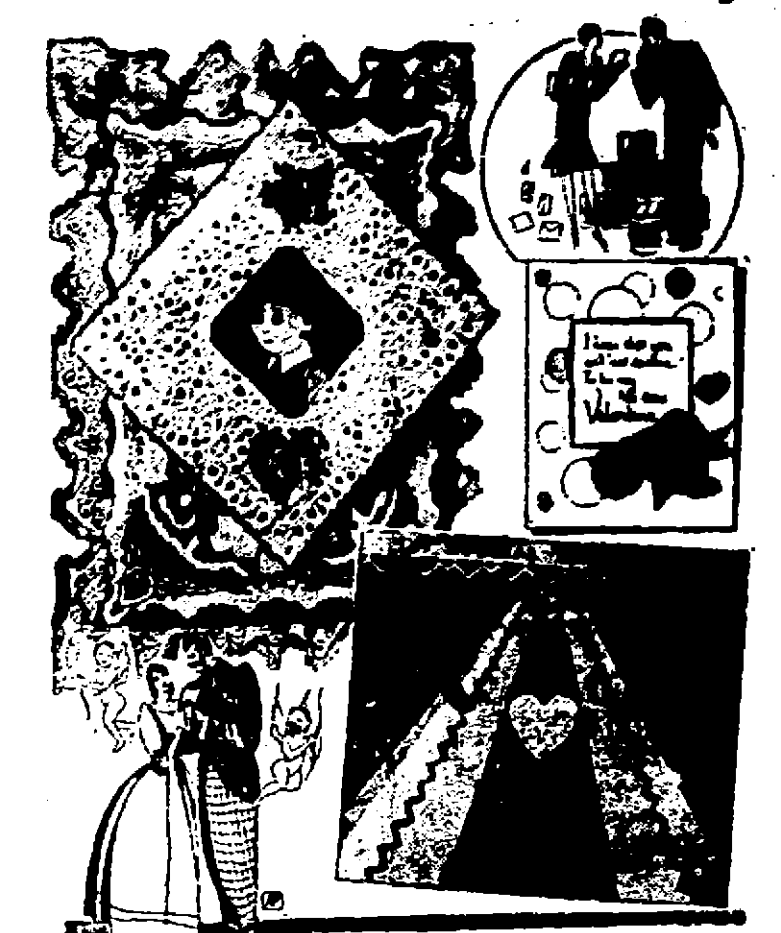

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

Feb. 5, 1909.—Common council voted to increase police salaries.

DeWitt C. Davis died at his home in Shokan, aged 80 years.

Modern Valentines
Brighten the Heart and Gladden the Eye

Valentines on display this season show a decidedly modern trend in design. For those who prefer the old-fashioned are the reproductions of other days shown above.

New York, (P).—Modern young people pretend to despise their sentimental forefathers, but the profusion of valentines on display this year seem to indicate that somebody is wrong.

Valentine manufacturers say the young people are kidding themselves. Valentines are as vital to a successful love affair as ever, they claim. To prove it they offer great columns of figures showing that young people send valentines and spend a great deal more for them than grandfathers would ever have dared.

February shop windows pay homage to the jolly saint whose feast day is the fourteenth. Candy makers pack their wares in heart-shaped boxes. Florists tie up old-fashioned bouquets with quaint paper frills. Jewellers signs are subtly suggestive.

Even book shops have valentine packages. Great stores on Fifth avenue have given over counters and shelves to valentines. The most modern may select from designs done by contemporary artists. The strong colors and odd designs of present day art have supplanted the conventional cupids and flowers.

For the old-fashioned are reproductions of favorites of 50 years ago. Chubby boys and rosy girls smile in bowers of paper lace and red hearts pierced with gilded arrows. Pink little cupid run riot over huge cards bespattered with saccharine verse.

There are valentines for a sweet heart, for a wife and for a mother. Uncles and aunts, sisters and cousins have their special cards. And now after a row is filled with "comics," poking good-natured fun at the foibles of man.

NEW PALTZ

New Paltz, Feb. 5.—The Independent contest came to a successful close Saturday. George Langnick was the winner of the contest, which was for him a course in Eastman's Business College.

Visitors from New Paltz and vicinity to New York city will find a local interest in the magnificent new Jewish Emanuel, which is nearing completion at Fifth avenue and Sixty-fifth street, from the fact that all exterior carving on the building is being done under personal direction of George Doxey of New Paltz, who has the contract for the work.

Mr. Doxey stands high in his profession. He is one of the outstanding members of the old school of carvers and does to a certain extent, his own designing while the younger generation can only mechanically copy the patterns provided by the modelers. The new synagogue is on the site formerly occupied by the Vincent Astor residence and will cost between three and four million dollars. It will be the third largest religious building in New York city, the Cathedral of St. John the Divine and St. Patrick's being the largest two.

Mrs. Marsh's letters to her mother and sister describing a trip abroad in the course of which she visited nearly every country in Europe, have been interesting. Mrs. Marsh recently visited her family in New Paltz, consisting of Mrs. E. C. Alexander, Miss Alice Alexander and Miss Carter. Mrs. Marsh is the wife of Professor A. W. Marsh of Amherst.

Wednesday, January 23, the Grade School orchestra, under the direction of Miss Marion Harding, gave their initial performance in the Normal School auditorium. The occasion was the usual meeting of the entire grade school for their weekly chapel period. It was attended by an exceptionally large number of the faculty. Miss Bernice DuBois acted as pianist for the group. Mary Yost played a violin solo and Philip Nork concluded the program by playing "taps" on his trumpet. It was voted a very delightful performance and an exceptionally promising one for such young musicians.

Registration day, Monday of last week, was a busy day at the New Paltz Normal. Thirty-one entering students swelled the attendance to the grand total of 775 in the Normal.

The juniors, seniors and friends spent the afternoon registering at the Normal. The faculty had previously announced that all students were to appear promptly, as the day was not a holiday. They did not say, however, that the missing would be given a "cut" in every subject. This announcement came as a somewhat surprise to the gay delinquents upon their return.

Fred Yorks and Tony Myers of Libertyville were recent visitors in town.

Two young men from town have been doing repairs on water pipes in Libertyville.

SENIOR LUTHER LEAGUE OF REDEEMER CHURCH

During the past two Sunday evenings the Senior Luther League of Redeemer Lutheran Church has been having some lively discussions of desirable qualities of young men and women. In the first discussion on "The kind of qualities a young man likes to see in a young woman" the young men put Christian character first. Next in order came intelligence, health, clean in body, good-natured. While some one suggested beauty as one of the important qualities the majority felt that beauty is secondary and accordingly was not placed among the first five desirable qualities. Economy was suggested by some.

In Sunday evening's discussion on "The kind of qualities a young woman likes to see in a young man" the young women likewise placed Christian character first, for it was believed that a person who is a good Christian will be trustworthy, unselfish, loyal and clean in mind. The girls placed health second; intelligence, third; ambition, fourth and good-nature, fifth. Reliability, economy and cleanliness in body were other qualities suggested by the young women as being desirable in young men. Both young men and women are now striving hard to cultivate the qualities suggested to each other. The regular monthly meeting of the League will be held Monday evening, February 11. A Valentine party will probably be held before Lent. The discussion next Sunday evening will be on "Books I Have Read" at which time members will tell about interesting and helpful books which they have read.

Dry Squad in Town Founded By Whiskey Jug

Leadville, Colo. (AP)—Two precincts, August Blanche and George Hook, one day in 1877 sat down on the side of Fryer Hill in the shadow of the Continental divide to sample a jug of whiskey.

One of them picked up a piece of rich silver ore. Thus Leadville was started, and it became the greatest silver camp in the world.

Liquor played a part in the founding of the town and today federal prohibition officers assert liquor still plays a big part in Leadville's life. Six of the city's officials including the mayor, three councilmen and two policemen—are under indictment on charges of "conspiracy to violate the prohibition law." Twenty-one other citizens, proprietors of soft drink parlors, were cited to appear with the city officials in federal court at Pueblo to answer the charges.

While the rest of the country worked toward prohibition, Leadville remained apart—a reflecting mining town, picturesque in action and history. Fabulous wealth from the hills gave Leadville miles of boardwalk, on which the heels of heavy miners have clicked ever since the city came into existence. Saloons sprang up profusely in the early '80's and became the accepted rendezvous of all "respectable" citizens.

Physically this mining town is scarcely changed since the early days. Saloons with curtained doors and mahogany bars still remain. They are listed for the most part as clubs and soft drink parlors. But prohibition officers say that the old saloons have lost only their names. A single row of frame shacks along the edge of the California gulch which later became known as "The Line," or State street, was Leadville's happy way from the beginning. When a railroad was extended to the mining camp a second row of saloons sprang up opposite the depot and became known as "Bottle row," the scene of numerous pistol duels and pitched gun battles.

Later, more elegant saloons were established and furnished elaborately with mahogany.

Prohibition officers say that in this town of less than 10,000 inhabitants a carload of sugar was the average monthly turnover for even the small grocery stores. Corn was sold in large quantities and there was a constant demand for yeast. One grocery store received last fall three carloads of California grapes a week, while fresh fruits, especially peaches, sold well. One prohibition officer said a fine peach brandy was easily purchased.

Old fashioned waffles—but a new fashioned iron

What an event it was when mother greased the heavy waffle iron, built a roaring fire, and stood in the smoke and heat, turning the iron over and over!

And were those waffles good! With melting butter and clear maple syrup, or with chicken, or chops or bacon.

The old time goodness is in waffles today, but the electric waffle iron has done away with cumbersome methods.

Turn the switch on and off, that's all. There's no greasing or turning the iron.

Electrically made at the table, waffles can be a frequent treat.

Return Bust Of Washington

Albany, Feb. 5 (AP).—A life cast bust of George Washington, stolen from the capitol during the fire of 1911, when Governor Roosevelt was a member of the State Senate, was returned Monday to the state and the Governor by a newspaper man who had traced the bust to a farm near Binghamton. The correspondent, Irwin Thomas, of the New York Evening World, uncovered the clues to the missing bust several years ago and, following his lead into a Connecticut town and to a number of persons, found that the statue was buried in the barnyard of a farm about 15 miles from Binghamton.

The bust of the first President was made at Mt. Vernon by Jean Antoine Houdon, born in Versailles in 1740. The bronze cast delivered today is believed to be one of a few made from the original mold of Houdon.

Governor Roosevelt, in thanking Thomas, recalled that while in Washington as assistant secretary of the navy he found in an obscure office of the Navy Department a life cast of John Paul Jones, also by Houdon.

The Washington bust was taken from the legislative library during the fire. It is of bronze of about three-quarters life size proportion, and upon its return was found to be in perfect condition despite its years underground in the barnyard.

The Governor said he would have the bust placed in his office until the State Museum provided a place for it.

"JAZZ CLUB" SCENE EXPECTED TO BE HIT BY VETS' MINSTREL

Going over the "Jazz Club" scene for the Veterans of Foreign Wars minstrel to be held in Kingston High School on Monday and Tuesday evenings, February 11 and 12, occupied a greater part of the rehearsal held in the "Dugout" on East Chestnut street Sunday.

This promise to be one of the outstanding features of the show, which will be one of the best amateur productions ever staged in Kingston, it is said. The scene is made up of young ladies and gentlemen, whose voices harmonize well in rendering the popular song hits of the day. Special costumes have been ordered for the minstrel.

The 1929 STEWARTS

---are the talk of all truckdom

Automotive engineers, truck experts, truck dealers, truck users are hailing the 1929 Stewart as the finest Stewart of them all, by far "America's Greatest Truck Value."

Stewart owners do not figure depreciation on a 2 or 3 year basis. They know by experience that the average life of a Stewart is 5 years or more. There are thousands of 4, 6, 8, 10 and even 12 year old Stewarts in service in more than 600 American cities and 56 foreign countries.

Finer, more beautiful, more powerful, more rugged, the new Stewart stands at the top of all truckdom. Low profit per unit spells greater value than ever before to the Stewart buyer.

Stewart Sales Reach New Mark
Stewart sales in 1926 were 41% greater than in 1925. 1927 beat 1926 by 45.7% and now 1928 sales eclipsed them all with a 53% gain over 1927. Learn why! Catalogs gladly mailed upon request.

Hoover to View Flood Damage

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 5 (AP).—President-elect Hoover will end on his visit to the Oklawaha district next week plenty of evidence of the devastation created in that section by the 1928 hurricane and flood.

Roads which were washed out then still are in bad shape and the police may be had for the caravans of automobiles which will be piled up on the approach to the President-elect and his party by the state. The greatest loss of life in the 1928 storm—and the estimate of the total exceeded two thousand—occurred in the towns of Babcock, Chosen and Bell Glade, on the southeastern side of the lake, when the swelling water carried away the levees which it is now planned shall be replaced with types calculated to hold against floods.

No doubt much of the country through which Mr. Hoover will pass will take him back to his early campaigning days. It is boggy in places, in others only mounds of saw grass are to be found, and some portions are already.

One of the plans now under consideration for alleviating the existing dangerous condition to the south of Lake Okechobee is a drainage and navigation canal running from the lake into the Caloosahatchee river down to the present head of navigation above Fort Myers.

Mr. Hoover will make a personal survey of the whole problem and will supplement this with statistics so that he will be able to formulate a complete picture of what improvements must be made.

The problem of reclamation of a large section of the Everglades also will enter into the equation. Aside from the conference he will hold from time to time with Senator Smoot of Utah, chairman of the Senate finance committee, who is a guest at No. 4 Belle Isle. Mr. Hoover has a rather clear slate for the remainder of this week, and he is expected to put in several afternoons on the fishing grounds of Miami.

He had only a single caller on the list for today, Mrs. Bertha B. Barr of Chicago, Republican national committee woman for Illinois.

The new administration was elected on a platform demanding clambakes, good ones and many of them, and all of the officers are solemnly pledged to put the high and lofty principles of the platform into effect.

Officers elected were, A. H. Chambers, president; Roy M. Sutcliffe, vice-president; J. D. Schenck, treasurer; Monroe Southard, secretary; Lewis Brown and William McGrath, governors.

Newburgh's Mill Brings High Price on Auction Block at Salmagundi Club—American Method Criticized.

(By F. G. Clough)

At the close of an annual exhibition of paintings by members of the Salmagundi Club on Fifth avenue, New York city, there was an auction sale of over 170 oil paintings, among which there were a number of the conservative painters from the Woodstock art colony represented.

One of the paintings which fetched a high price was a picture of "Vosburgh's Mill" at Shady, by Harry Leith-Ross. This picture showed the road leading toward the mill; there was a winter snow covering everything, and the tracks looked inviting to the traveler. The foreground of the canvas was in the shade, as typical of the valley from which the place was originally named. Further back the sunlight brightened the house and mill, which was backed by the virgin forest. Above all was a blue, cold sky. Leith-Ross paints in the academic manner, with a contemporary technique, excellent colors, and there was about his painting a realism born of faithful representation and experienced craftsmanship. The canvas brought a price which was among the highest but for any of the many canvases sold during the three nights of the auction sale.

At the Salmagundi Club gallery for the last three evenings in January, were gathered several hundred people to look on the paintings which had hung on exhibit for a fortnight preceding.

The affair was very lively; an auctioneer stood at the front of the room behind a desk; the audience was seated facing him; eight clerks circulated among the people relaying the bids to the auctioneer. As each painting was placed on a pedestal at the front of the room, the title and artist was announced. When the canvas was sold, it disappeared behind curtains and another took its place, by this method the 172 pictures were sold in three evenings.

In the audience were a number of well-known artists, art dealers, and individual patrons of art. The paintings, which were of one size, sold for prices ranging from $20 to $180 each.

Adding to the interest in the sale, bids were made in various languages, particularly in the case of the sale of Tod Lindenmuth's "Portuguese Fishing Boats," which went up to French bids. The second night, Gug Wiggins, a club member, auctioned one-third of the paintings, save for a painting of his own, "Winter Weather, New York," which a fellow-artist sold for the highest price offered up to that time.

Among other Woodstock artists whose work was sold were Emile Gruppe, Gerald Leake, John Banks, Ivan Summers, John Bentley, John F. Fellinsee, Boyer Gonzales and Walter Koelner.

It was a complaint heard at this large auction of art, that the auction method seemed to cheapen the work.

Various people attending felt that it was unethical for this sort of disposition of art to be allowed. They argued that art dealers bought up paintings for a song, took them to their galleries and doubled their money, thus working a hardship on the artist.

But it must be said on the other side, that the annual practice allows the public to make selections of oil paintings, and procure them at reasonable prices for their individual pleasure. In this way more pictures are distributed than would be possible with the regular art gallery method. This exhibit and auction method thus stimulates a public interest in the work of contemporary artists, and cannot help but be an excellent thing for art patrons, for art dealers, and also for artists. Viewed from this angle, the Salmagundi Club is doing a very laudable thing each year with its large auction of art.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

Fashion Like the Grand Hog Came Its Shadow in February.

New York.—During the first two weeks of February, Paris is a beehive of activity, most of the American buyers being present to attend the formal spring openings of the big dressmakers, these openings crowding the calendar so that there will be no necessity of those busy folks remaining in Paris more than a fortnight. Anyone who has survived the ordeal of reviewing from 600 to 1,000 models a day, knows what an ordeal it is and it speaks well for the judgment of these buyers that anything like a collection representative of the judgment of Paris reaches us.

It seems strange that out of this great array of models so many select the same one, for duplicates invariably find their way to these shores. Until these openings are over even the clearest American creators feel uncertain of their line, for let one or a dozen ideas seen in the haute couture fire the imagination of the designers and buyers present, and what was created in America is apt to be forgotten in the excitement of discovery.

Just recently a most important style showing was held in New York and judging from the models exhibited there is no thought of doing anything but combination materials and colors, for all sorts and conditions of frocks. Whether Paris will endorse this movement it is too early to say, but that it is the accepted note there is no denying. The excellent ways in which printed cottons were used, not for dresses alone but for suits, makes it seem very possible that cottons will be accepted everywhere.

Palm Beach has endorsed cottons heartily, and has also approved the one piece sleeveless dress worn with a separate jacket. Gingham which had a great career during the war and was worn as an economy measure, is now worn for no such reason, and what is more interesting is not restricted to utility dresses, but is made up in suits, or ensembles.

Organdie, the lady of the cotton family, is an ideal fabric for the present silhouette and was freely and charmingly used for evening and in a series of flower tones and in cliron and chaitreuse, both tones of distinction this season.

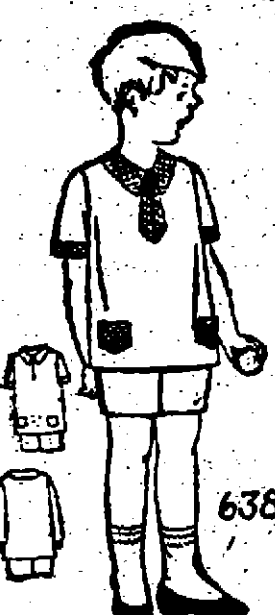

Another sure thing in the gamble of picking fashion winners is that the scarf and hat, an old alliance, are going about together and have so established their relations that no smart French woman dreams of having a hat unless there is a scarf to go with it. She may not always wear it, but she must have a scarf even if only to carry in her hand.

The scarfs are small and curiously shaped and have a persistent way of being plaid or check. The long back brim remains the talking point in millinery.

The separate jacket and the suit with jacket and tuck-in blouse is the foundation stone of the spring wardrobe. All blouses may not hide themselves under the waistband but a sufficient number do to make them the ruling interest.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

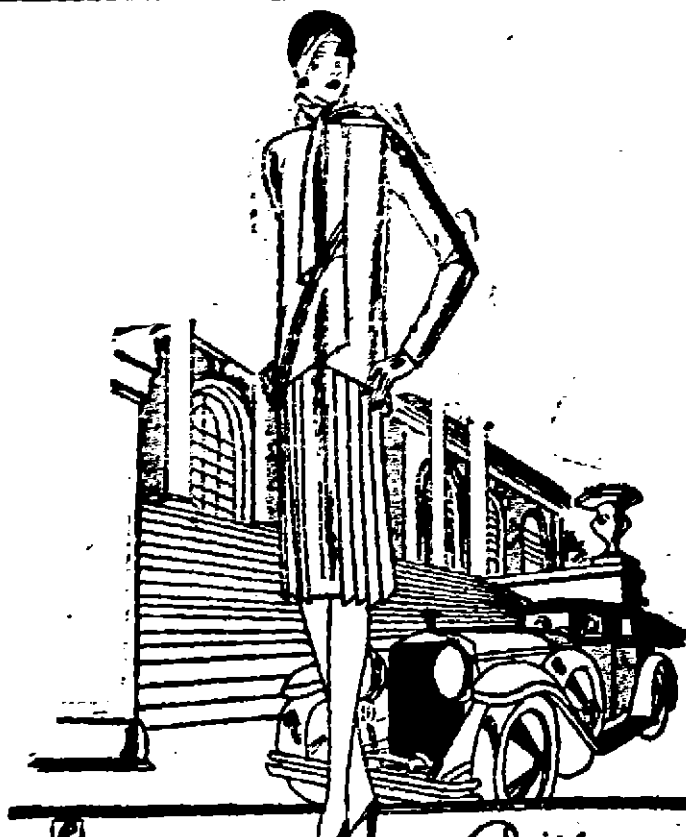

A Popular Suit for Small Boys. 6385. As here pictured white broadcloth is combined with checked gingham. One could use linen, or pongee with pipings of a contrasting color. The sleeve may be made in wrist length, and finished with a hand cuff or in short length, and trimmed with a facing as shown in the large view. The tab-trimming at the neck edge may be omitted. The trousers are cut in regulation style, and are made with side closings.

This pattern for this practical design is cut in 3 sizes: 2, 4 and 6 years. To make the suit for a 2 year size as shown in the large view will require 1 1/2 yards of 36 inch material together with 3/4 yard of contrasting material for pockets and facing on collar, cuffs and tab. If made with long sleeves 2 yards will be required and 3/4 yard of contrasting material.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 15c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Pattern Book Notice. Send 15c in coin or stamps to The Freeman for our up-to-date Fall and Winter 1928 Book of Patterns showing color photos, and containing 500 designs of ladies', misses' and children's patterns, a complete and comprehensive guide to dressmaking, also some patterns for the needle (illustrating 50 of the various simple stitches), all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

Bookly Talk. Stop worrying or dreading about how hard you are talking and keep your thought on the joy of real conversation. Then the task lightens.

Silk dresses may have short silk jackets with them in their spring aspect. Worth shows an almond green crepe de chine dress with matching coat. Both have incrustations of darker green. The jacket has a scarf collar and an irregular line around the hips. Would be fine for Palm Beach. Rita

Flag and Independence blue plays a prominent part in the color program.

The combination of these vivid blues with the so called sunburned tones was exploited at a recent fashion show.

The use of white fur on black is one of the new notes for spring coats.

The tuck-in blouse in contrasting color to the suit is a very important development in spring fashions.

Gingham is used for suits and there is no hesitancy in combining it even with velvet.

Orange and sun burned shades are good not only for day but evening wear.

Celanease and rayon are terms on every stylist tongue and designate a group of fabrics.

Sports shoes for southern wear are usually in white with one color.

Palm Beach has definitely established the separate jacket. Also the sleeveless dress.

Among the various prints in favor do not overlook polka dots, some of which are enormous in size, or plaids.

The new skirt line is down in back and front and short at sides, but it is the dipping back line which still prevails.

DON'T STARVE TO END FAT

Few succeed without help. Try the modern way, outlined in Marmale's prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of times of them. The results are seen everywhere.

Marmale contains a gland element which helps turn food into fuel and energy. The formula appears in every box, also the reasons for results. Thus you will know how the changes occur without harm.

All druggists supply Marmale at $1 a box. Go start is now. Take four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal. Do this because of the new beauty and vim which Marmale has brought to so many, for so long.

Get a sack of Pillsbury's Best Flour and use it—you'll discover something new about baking. You'll find a delicate, unmistakably richer flavor in everything you bake.

The food editors of leading magazines, women who have studied baking all their lives, say that this is scientifically correct. They say that flour has a lot to do with the flavor of baked foods. The secret is in the wheat that is used in milling the flour. Pillsbury's Best is made only from certain kinds of carefully selected, full-flavored wheat. Use it for finer flavor in everything you bake!

screen stars use it to keep their skin soft and smooth

Jeannette Loff, charming Pathe star, says: "No matter what climate my pictures take me to, or how hard the water, I have found that Lux Toilet Soap keeps my skin curiously smooth."

"I am utterly enthusiastic about Lux Toilet Soap," says pretty Mary Nolan, Universal star. "Even the most expensive French soaps have not kept my skin so beautifully smooth."

REALLY exquisite skin does win hearts—Hollywood knows how surely it wins them!

"If a girl wants popularity she must have a lovely smooth skin," says William K. Howard, Pathe director. "Without rare beauty of skin a screen star can never hope to win her public, no matter what else she may have."

Nine out of ten screen stars use Lux Toilet Soap. You have only to look at Jeannette Loff's skin, or Mary Nolan's, or Nancy Carroll's, to see how exquisite this delicately fragrant white soap keeps the skin. Small wonder that every one of the great film studios has made Lux Toilet Soap the official soap in all dressing rooms!

You'll love it yourself—its generous lather is so caressing, and leaves your skin so velvety. Use it in your bath, too—and for the shampoo, as the screen stars do.

Nancy Carroll, Paramount—"Lux Toilet Soap is delightful for the skin."

Financial and Commercial

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—Favorable trade and dividend news provided the background for an irregularly higher price movement in today's stock market. Although a sprinkling of losses fell back to 5 points on profit-taking and scattered bear selling, a long list of issues were selling 2 to 10 points above yesterday's final quotations by early afternoon. Trading showed a marked contraction in volume, presumably in response to the cautious advice of some of the leading commission houses.
Call money renewed at 7 per cent and was likely to remain at that rate all day. A bullish interpretation was placed, however, on the taking of $10,000,000 additional in British gold by American banks. The Stock Exchange brokers' loan statement, showing an increase of nearly $300,000,000, was about in line with Wall Street's expectations and was without market influence.
Copper shares responded briskly to the announcement of an increase from 17 1/2 to 17 3/4 cents in the price of the metal, and the placing of Anaconda copper common stock on a $7 annual dividend basis. Greene Canaan ran up nearly 5 points and Anaconda moved up 3 to Delaware and Hudson ran up 5 points, but the other rails showed a tendency to heaviness after an opening interval of strength. The reaction in this group, which was generally regarded as profit-taking, ran to 3 points in Atchafalaya and to a point more in Nickel Plate, Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific and a few other high grade shares.
Publication of record-breaking January chain store sales and bank clearings were among the leading retail developments of the day. Retail sales preferred soared 10 points to a new high of 106, Adams Express jumped 3 1/2, Union Carbide 7 1/2, Borders and Wright Aeronautical 7 1/2, each and Curtiss, Wesson Oil, Packard, Chrysler, Coca Cola, and General Railway signal 4 to 5 points higher. American Can and Howe Sound were among the score or so issues to reach new high ground.
Case Thrashing Machine broke 3 points, Peoples Gas 3 1/2 and Commercial Investment trust, Du Pont (new) and Commonwealth Power sold down 3 points or more.

Prohibition and Tenement Bill

Albany, Feb. 5 (AP)—The legislature today had added to its growing list of familiar bills prohibition and tenement house law revision.
The prohibition measure referred to the legislature in the form of an assembly bill designed to provide a state enforcement act, introduced by the veteran leader of the legislature's prohibition forces, Edmund S. Jenks, Republican, of Broome county. The Jenks bill this year appeared with drastic amendments. Stricken from it was the proposal of last year that each county in the state decide whether its police forces be used in the enforcement of the federal law. Amendments also had been made to the search and seizure and double jeopardy clauses.
The tenement house bill, labeled by its sponsor, the commission on revision of the tenement house law, as the "multiple dwellings bill," also appeared amended from last year. The original measure applied to multiple dwellings as small as two-family apartments, while the bill introduced last night effects chiefly the larger structures, such as hotels and apartment hotels. The bill was also revised to effect only cities of more than 50,000 population, unless smaller communities desired to include the measure in their local laws.
There will be a meeting of the Women's New Era League in the First Presbyterian Church on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. There will be an executive meeting at 2:15 o'clock.
The Ladies' Auxiliary of Union Hose will hold a card party in the engine house on East Union street, February 7. Games will start at 8:30. Refreshments will be served. The public is invited.
A card party will be held this evening at the Masonic Club rooms, corner of Broadway and Henry street, under the auspices of Mystic Court, No. 162, Order of the Amaranth. Games and bridge will be played and games will begin at 8:15 o'clock. Refreshments will be served. The public is invited.
The regular monthly meeting of the Missionary Society of the Free Methodist Church will be held Wednesday evening, February 6, at 7:45 at the home of the president, Mrs. John Glass, 58 Cedar street. There will be a study period, the last half of the first chapter in the study book will be the lesson. A large attendance is desired. Visitors always welcome.
Paris.—The year 1929 will be marked by the death of a king, by the passing of two very important French political personages and two world famous men of letters, and enough airplane, mine, railroad, and steamship accidents to keep the newspapers supplied with front-page news.
All that was apparent in the crystal ball to Madame Fraya, the French prophet, who has become famous ever since she predicted a year ago the tragic death of the Russian millionaire-banker, Alfred Loewenstein.
"The new year will be one of great agitation," Madame Fraya said.
"France particularly will suffer because many men are hungry for power. The present French cabinet will tumble, but many of its members will come back into power."
"There will be many scandals in society and finance, a great increase in crimes and divorces. Several terrible airplane catastrophes will shock the world, but aviation generally will make progress."
"Water will cause several disasters with great loss of life, one of them will occur in America. There will be one menace of war, in which France will be involved, but I see no bloodshed."
"Living will become more and more dear, but business will be bad. There will be an unusual number of failures among small merchants. The outstanding debt will be that of a king very friendly to France."
Ever since M. Loewenstein fell to his death in the channel from his airplane the fame of Madame Fraya has spread and the world, including many Americans, has heeded a path to her door. Her bank account has been materially fattened.
"Hundreds of American women are among my visitors," Madame Fraya said recently.
"Like all women, they want to know about love affairs. But while French women need to love, American women need to be loved. American women, in general, are the luckiest in the world. They bring good fortune to those they love most."

Memoriam

In memory of my Daddy, George M. Robins, who passed away February 5, 1924.
RUTH E. ROBINS.
Memoriam
From the world of pain and sorrow
To the beautiful home of God,
Where only peace and happiness dwell,
God took our dear companion and mother.
She was faithful, good and true,
And the memory still lingers on.
There is not a day or an hour that passes
But we are longing and thinking
Of that beautiful shore up yonder
Where we shall meet once more
Never to part again.
Gone but not forgotten.
In loving memory of our dear wife and mother who departed seven years ago today, Feb. 5, 1922.
(Signed) JESSE P. OSTERHOUDT,
